New Beginnings . . .

New People

New Places

New Things . . .

By JEFF JANDA

As some of us returned to the North Central campus in the fall either for the first, second, third or fourth time, there were many new faces. There was approximately 505 new degree students on campus in the fall representing 12 different states and three countries. It was another record breaking freshman class with close to 315 new students with around 190 transfer students entering North Central. Not only did we see new students, but also an increase in faculty. Such names as Weber, Proctor, Smeaton, Sweeney, Lovett, Sellers, and Billeter became familiar on campus.

Also with new faces, many new places were added to the North Central campus. At the beginning of fall term we saw the addition of two parking lots in order to help the parking problems. In winter term we saw the opening of the new Fort Hill addition which has been designed to house 70 students. Kimmel hall received new bathrooms, getting rid of the old bathtubs. Another renovation that took place was the NCC bookstore. Now the bookstore not only offers books, but gift items, cards, and a big variety of NCC clothing is available. In the Merner Fieldhouse change took place as the main arena was recommerated the "Gregory Arena" on October 15th. There also was the addition of the "All-American Wall" which displays all the athletes names who have earned the honor. Joni Bartucci added the new Cardinal painting in the Cardinal Den and Jeff Janda added the "Cardinal Feather" in the Chronicle. New Clubs added to the North Central campus were CIA, Ideas in Action, and the Freshman Class Board. This years Homecoming tug broke ground when juniors and seniors fought it out along with the freshman and sophomore women for the first time in NCC history. New moving boards were added to Kaufman, the library, and the Activities Center to keep students informed.

Many new policies took effect this year. We saw new extended Kaufman hours and the mandatory ruling that all new freshman must take the Freshman Experience course. The Security Staff was increased in size and also asked to patrol the whole NCC campus, inside and out. The English department decided to let students use dictionaries when taking the English competency exam and the new aids policy stated that each case will be dealt with individually and confidentially.

These are just a few of the new things we found that affected the North Central campus. As you look through the yearbook each one of you can find something new.

ACTIVITIES

Destination Unknown

Homecoming '87 was definitely a "Voyage Beyond the Stars." The week's activities began with a video dance at the fieldhouse. A "blast" was had by those who attended the send-off party. Saturday night there was a battle for the title of "Couple of the Future." The winners were Obrad Kesic & Becky Blanchard; Tony Passi & Kristy Bachler; Rich Scopp & Donna Ott. On Tuesday evening the gamblers traveled to taste "Nightlife in Mars." This futuristic version of casino night was a success so Tracy Walls Smith thought. To celebrate Homecoming, Kaufman treated all to a "Future Dinner". Pep Rally '87 with the traditional bonfire was a little damp but exciting for the chosen court: Freshman Sandy Barnett; Sophomore Ophelia Johnson; Junior Dawn Brooks; Senior Attendant Julie Bartelson — Queen Joney Bartucci and Casanova Marc Browning. The game was a successful victory over Carthage. Destination Unknown — Fox Valley Country Club — and Homecoming Dance '87 the final orbit. It was an unforgettable night and week!

The Imaginary Invalid

People were amused by a group of students who worked many hours to perfect Noliere's The Imaginary Invalid. The fall play dealt with Argan's (John Horton) obsession with daily injections, pills, and doctors. Composing the rest of the cast were: his wife Beline (Donna Fletcher); daughter Angelique (Erin Cotner); Cleante (Jeff Ray); Tionette (Christie Hubbard); Mr. Fleurant (Hajira Shariff); Thomas Diafoirus (Gregg Lloyd); Mr. Diafoirus (Tony Vaughn); Mr. Purgon (Kelly Thomas); Baeralde (Zoe Roger). Not pictured Louisa (Tina Schap) and Mr. de Bonnejoy (Joe Varno). This 17th century play was entertaining and well-done.

"It was great to spend some time with Dad and my family." — Karl Brooks

October 31st wasn't only Halloween — it also was the celebrated Dad's Day. In honor of the occasion, the theme was chosen to be "The Magic of Dad." The football game against Augustana wasn't a victory, but it was a good battle. After the game, parents and families were invited to the Fieldhouse for a hypnotist's show. The performance was very entertaining to all who watched.

Dad's Day

"He was fantastic and definitely not a fake." . . Leslie Mason on the mentalist from the Blue Moon Cafe.

This fall there were a variety of things happening on campus. In September MSA has a "mixer" and began their Big Brother/Sister program. They also, with SA, put on a forum concerning the lack of black professors on campus. UMSO also had a mixer to begin the year and sponsored a Christian Rock dance with FCA. Tempting the taste-buds were bake-sales by NTSO, SLATE, and International club. Tri Beta held their annual Cheese and Tea. POLIS and Ideas in Action held a successful can drive to feed the hungry and CUAB brought many entertainers for their Blue Moon Cafe. AMA held a number of lectures dealing with the field of marketing/business. All in All it was a very active fall term.

Fall Activities

Opposites Attract

Winter Carnival was a little backwards this year, at least that's what the theme was. On Monday, Kaufman switched and served breakfast at dinner to get into the spirit of the week. "Mr. Mom" was shown to reverse the role for a while. Thursday Kaufman donned the 50's look as a background for some sneak previews of Bye Bye Birdie. Jeopardy was also played on Friday night for those avid game show people. Saturday ended "Backwards Week" with the dance "Opposites Attract." The court was selected and given the tiaras, flowers, and banners — only this time they were placed on the guys. Yes, the chosen few were Randall House and Curt Vollman, freshman; Shawn Welti, sophomore; Jerry Pietryk, junior; and senior attendant, Andy Walsh. The "Casanova" was Sandy Greves and the "Queen" was Marc Browning. Z95 kept everyone dancing for the night. A fun time was had by all.

Bye Bye Birdie

Lights . . . Camera . . . Action and action there was in Pfeiffer Hall on February 25, 26, 27, and 28. The winter production was the musical Bye Bye Birdie. It featured "Put on a Happy Face" and "One Last Kiss." The show was sold out for three of the four productions. The involvement ranged from freshmen to seniors to faculty to "young" stars. Dean Moser, Paul Connor, and Dr. Talley were the faculty members taking part. Another new face on the Pfeiffer Hall stage was Eric Loscheider a 10 year old from Naperville.

It was evident that much time and effort was put into Bye Bye Birdie by everyone. Thank you for a show well done!!

"It's so great! Everyone goes out there (on stage) and has so much fun. It just works. It's gotta work!"

NCC Does Chicago Siblings Day

"Although sisters can be pains sometimes, We had a GREAT weekend!"
Michele Henke

Here we come Chicago! February 20 was the NCC Siblings Day. Students and siblings were invited to go into Chicago for the day. The Museum of Science and Industry was the first stop on the schedule. Everyone was left to discover the wonders of science. After this it was on to Edwardo's Pizza for lunch. To finish off the day, time was spent at the Shed Aquarium. It was a special treat sponsored by CUAB, for students and thier siblings to spend some time together.

Siblings Day

What Happened? ? ?

Winter term "88" wasn't a quiet time on campus. There were dances, entertainers, and even a variety show. To kick off the term, RHA sponsored a New Year's Eve "Procrastination" Dance. This was one "project" everyone who attended managed to finish on time. The Blue Moon Cafes featured such names as Henry Cho, Kier, Rondell Sheridan, and Mark Pitta. We Can Make You Laugh returned and a special attraction was a concert by Dana Carvey the Church Lady on Saturday Night Live. NCC's very own entertainers were featured at the APO varsity show. Moves, Inc. took first prize with Sergeant Salts second, and Tracy Smith third. Valentine's Day did not go by unnoticed. Pi Kappa Delta held a dance to celebrate this day. CIA sponsored a ski-trip for all the snow-bunnies. The term drew to a close with a dance sponsored by the Women's Support Group, a sub-group of MSA.

That's what happened!

What a winter!

A.M.A.

1987-88 AMA Members

The American Marketing Association of NCC has been a very active club on campus this year. They have sponsored many trips to trade shows, offered a trip to the National AMA Convention in St. Louis, and have had many guest speakers come to campus. Membership in the club has been on the rise and is looking good for the following year. One project that they put a lot of effort into was the designing and marketing of NCC boxer shorts.

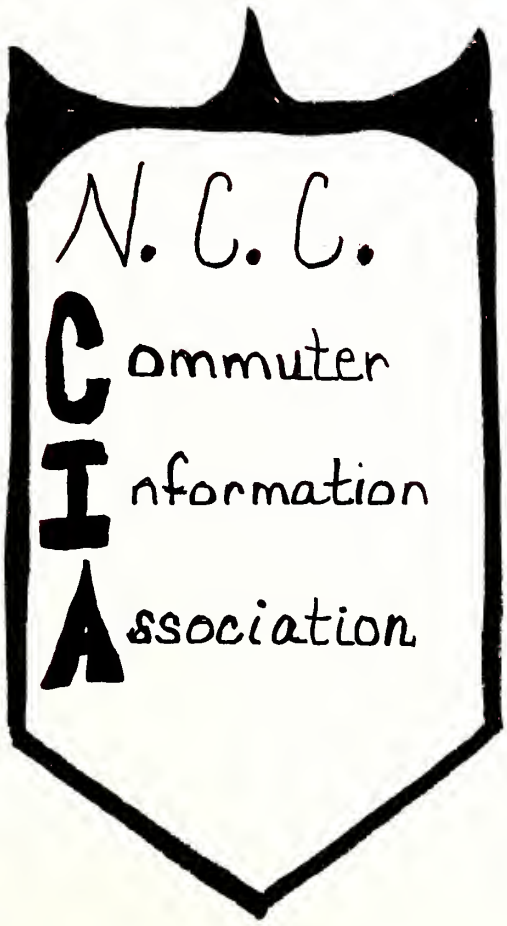
Front R: John Madormo and Mike Van Poucke; Second R: Stacy Berns, Pete Richardson, Denise Johnson, Ric Federighi, Joe Ambrose, Kerry Kropusek, Donika Selenica, Maria Tramonte, Kim Jesch; Third R: Mark Yuhas, John Welk, Greg Gates, Beth Yenerich, Mike Dreher, Donna Brazas, Erin Cotner, Elaine Rousonelos, Laura Loica, Mike Oldenettel, Vince Viceli; Fourth R: Rob Winsall, John Horton, Becky Blanchard, Rich Baldino, Tom Racey, Jennifer Bahan, Kelly Jakobowski, Jeff Zoephel, Sterling Hazen; Fifth R: Mark Krueger, Erik Kanter, Rich Aguilera, Steve Paska, Tim Gossett, Curt Vollman, Roger Werries, Rob Hemmelgarn, Jerry Duttlinger, Tracey Stohl, Mike Rogers, Steve Zurek, Jim Koth, and Scott Slocum.

North Central's radio station, WONC, has grown quite a bit. Increase in staff size and quality in programs. This year they offered a special give-away for Valentine's Day. They raffled off a Kaufman dinner for two with limo service to those who listened to the station. Other activities they sponsored include a eat-off contest and a Chronicle - WONC basketball game.

C.I.A.



The Commuter Information Association (CIA) spent fall term reogranizing. Patti Pasini was elected president and began to take the organization in the right direction. During Winter term CIA began to plan various activities such as a ski trip for all students, a road rally, and during spring term their annual trip to Great America.

Tuesday ! !

Vote, Vote, Vote!! That became a motto on our NCC campus for one grueling week of campaigning. The SA Elections, headed up by the Senior Elections Committee, took place during the 6th and 7th weeks of Winter Term. It all started with a candidate social where applications could be picked up and questions answered. Soon our campus was wall papered with posters and fliers which informed the student body who was running for the open positions. "G.A. for S.A.", "Leave it to Beaver", "Jammin' with Tammin'", and "Mona Marbles" became the popular phrases of many students. After two candidate forums it was time to go to the polls. A record number of students turned out to vote and the elections were a success — good luck to all the new leaders of next year!!

WORK, WORK,

Work, for some of us, was something we had too much of. For others, work was necessary to get through college. On campus jobs provide students with a chance to interact with faculty and staff on a personal level. Off campus jobs were pretty easy to find in growing Naperville. But what do people think about working? Quyen Huhn, who works at the library "I like working here." In the mailroom where Penny Corpus works, her biggest complaint is that "I never get any mail." Ty, from Kaufman says, "It stinks but we make the most of it." And finally, Terri Knoble says "You see and meet a lot of people in the library." During the college years it may be easy to say: Can't live with work, and you can't live without it.

A Visit To Washington D.C.

During February 16th and 21st, Dave Soliday (SA VP) and Kerry Kropusek (CUAB Pres) spent their time in Washington D.C. to attend the National NACCA conference. There were many entertainers who performed along with educational sessions that provided them with information on communication, developing a high profile for your student government, and intervention strategies. It was also helpful in that they were able to pick up different ideas from schools from all over the nation. Dave Soliday reflected on his experience by saying: "It was a very long week, along with being very informative and fun!"

A.M.A. Goes To St. Louis

St. Louis played host to six of NCC's AMA members as they attended "Marketing Magic", an AMA conference in February. The seminar was held in the Clarion Hotel and gave students the opportunity to hear various speakers from large American companies. After the morning a great luncheon was had with Robert Wallace, Executive Editor of Rolling Stone Magazine to follow as the keynote speaker. The seminar was ended with outstanding student awards, David Olsson was awarded one on behalf of the St. Louis chapter of AMA.

Two Awards For Our NCC Chronicle

On February 26th and 27th, members from the Chronicle staff attended the Illinois College Press Association Conference in Chicago. Members who participated include: Bradley Johnson, Matt Hook, Chris Baker, Mark Mc Quade, Chan Dobberstien, Maria Tramonte, and Kathy Maurer. The Chronicle recieved two awards, first, a 2nd place for Photo Essay in a Non-Daily, Small School Paper done by Bradley Johnson, Chris Baker, Phil Albano, and Vince Vicelli. The second award went to Phil Albano for his first place finish in the category of Sports Photo in a Non-Daily, Small School paper.

N.C.C. S.I.F.E.

The NCC group SIFE, Students In Free Enterprise, is a non-profit organization which is a student organization to promote a better understanding of current economic issues and to develop an appreciation for the free enterprise system. The NCC SIFE team has selected "Growth in DuPage County" as their theme as they seek to discover how the national deficit effects growth in DuPage County, the increased growth of enterpeneuers in DuPage County, and an ethical standpoint on change that is incurred by DuPage County. Members of SIFE include: President Stephen Jacobs, Treasurer Tim Herlehy, Secretary Scott Homa, Joney Bartucci, Cathy Rauscher, Kenra Hearld, Paul Fox, Tricia Stepan, Mike Potrawski, Mike Van Poucke, and Maureen La Faver.

Going Out West

R.H.A. Convention

On the weekend of February 19th and 20th, Chuck Linneman, Carleen Verstraete, and Wendy Wilgenbusch represented the NCC RHA at the Illinois Residence Hall Association Conference. It was held at Western Illinois University in Macomb, Illinois and it provided all who attended with information about how other schools conducted their RHA's. Workshops helped educate the leadership qualities and necessary set-ups to have a productive RHA chapter.

Over interm a group of students visited the West as they researched and lived in the desert. The group drove to Arizona to live and study the several different desert ecosystems. They backpacked down Mt. Lemmon of the Santa Catalina Mountain Range which allowed them to study the changes in the ecosystem from a desert mountain top and a desert floor. They then camped in Organ Pipe National Monument for a week doing studies on the plants and animals that lived within the region. Their final adventure was a study of the Grand Canyon to see the geological changes that exist. Pete Fippinger said the following about his experience: "A unique opportunity to learn what makes the desert such a unusual ecosystem and what special adaptations must be made for someone or something to live there." Members of the trip include: Dr. Marsh, Kristy Witt, Dave Harrington, Sharon McNabb, Michelle Jaeger, Cherri Roeson, Steve Fielen, Steve Monroe, Bob Poel, Peter Fippinger, and Kevin O'Brien.

John Horton And Christie Hubbard Give It A Shot . . .

During Winter Term, Christie Hubbard and John Horton took a trip to the ACTF Confence. The conference brought together many drama students from the midwest to compete for first place. In order to get in the competition you needed to first be selected from a panel of judges. Christie Hubbard was selected and used John Horton as her scene partner. Christie said this about her performance: "While I did not make the finals, I still felt very honored to be chosen to compete." John Horton had visited the conference the previous year and felt that the conference "makes one strive harder as an actor. You see what competition is out there and it really gives you a good feeling."

NACCA

In the middle of fall term, NCC sent a group of eight students and two advisors to represent us at the Regional NACCA Conference. There, such students and Mona Martin and Walter Leverett spent time in workshops learning leadership qualities and in the audience as they watched performers of all sorts. The conference was held in Peoria, Illinois and a good time was had by all.

New Beginnings

Shar Penn - Club Editor

For all of us on the Spectrum staff, it was a year of New Beginnings. As we came together in the fall we knew little about one another, but through the struggle, excitement, and experience of making this yearbook we have grown together as a family. Many hours have been poured into this book - by each editor - and it was with the help and dedication of each one of them that this book has been created. There were many other people who have helped us in our efforts and it is to them that we would like to extend a special thanks:

- to Josten's our publisher and Jim Bull our Rep.
- to Halterman's our main photographer
- to Mike De Lillie for our cover design
- to Matt Hook and Bradley Johnson for developing some rolls of film for our deadline
- to Dave Abrams, Anita Artensen, Don Bedford, Jerry Evitts, Kathy Maur, Leslie Mason, and Mrs. Beavers for taking various pictures that we have used throughout the book
- to Matt Hook, once again, for his special interest in the Senior section and the development of the layouts

THANKS AGAIN TO EVERYONE FOR YOUR SUPPORT !!

Pam Salik - Class Editor

Michelle Henke - Sports Editor

Sarah Wright - Activities Editor

Terri Knoble - Sports Editor

Dana Radloff - Class Editor

Christina Beavers - Editor-in-Chief

As it is 4:50am in the morning and I have just completed our final deadline for the book, I would like to take a few moments to reflect back upon the past year.

Coming back in the fall there were many new faces on campus along with the friendly familiar faces from before. It was at this time that my staff and I selected our theme "New Beginnings". To myself I thought this could be a great theme, for just in the case of the yearbook new actions have been taken in getting the book out on time and working with a full, motivated, and dedicated staff. But this is not the only reason why I believe our theme is 'great', it is because it is an idea that everyone can relate to in her or his own experience in the last year. Personally, this year has been a tremendous one for me, one I would never change. For my 'new beginning' has come through all of you, my friends. It was through Dave, Oompa, and Brad that I was constantly reminded to keep smiling; Leslie, Kim, and Michelle J. allowed me to air my many frustrations and problems; it was through Marianne that I gained another hour in the day as I owe her many favors, Anita gave me the chance to succeed as I spent many early morning hours in her room completing homework assignments, and it was through the all the various committees and groups that I worked with that help educate me in a variety of ways. This 'new beginning' was also shown by the entire NCC campus as you gave support activities and ideas that were given to you.

In closing there are just two things left to say. First a special thanks to the entire yearbook staff for getting the job done and to Jerry, Mom, Dad, and Kory for their endless support, understanding, and love throughout the past year. And, second, to the senior class that will not be back next year- As you leave North Central for the final time as a student and search for all your new beginnings, please don't forget the past, but when you are feeling lonely, afraid, or frustrated in your search remember all the good times, familiar faces, and caring friends that will think about you always. Good Luck!

Sincerely yours,
Christina Beavers
